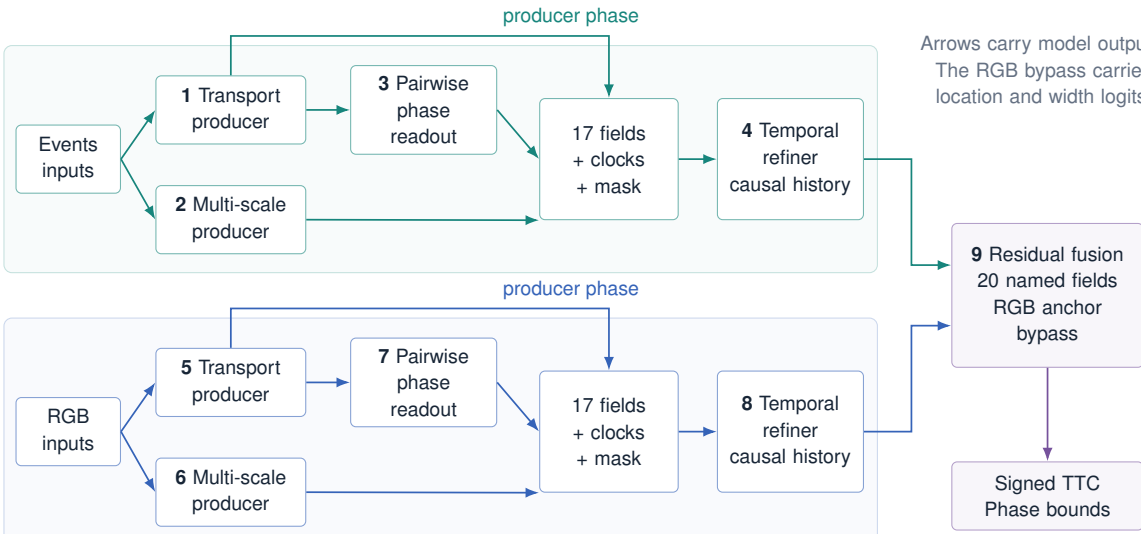
Inference: nine fitted components, one causal prediction


Both branches use supplied object regions and observations available by query time.